A WOMAN BEHEADED

Heinous Murder in Kentucky
Near Cincinnati.

THE CRIME A DEEP MYSTERY

Headless Trunk of a Young Woman Found
Near Fort Thomas—The Murderer Undoubtedly Carried His Victim's Head Away With Him—The Victim Unknown and the Murderer at Large.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 3.—The discovery of the decapitated body of a woman Saturday morning between some bushes in an old orchard at Fort Thomas, Ky., within 100 yards of Alexandria pike, was grawsome evidence of a horrible crime committed in the darkness of the preceding night.

The head had been carried away, with a view, most probably, of concealing the identity of the victim.

Everything in the surrounding conditions pointed to a terrible struggle having taken place before the woman received her death blow. Who she was or where she came from are mysteries.

From the position of the body it was evident that the woman had been thrown down violently and then her head deliberately severed with a dull knife. The severance was made below the fifth vertebra. Judging by the pool of blood, life had been extinct from four to eight hours when the body was found.

The clothing of the woman was of poor quality. The dress was light blue and white, small pattern check, of cotton, worn tight across the back and loose in front. She also wore a dark blue skirt and a union suit of underwear. On her hands was a pair of tan kid gloves, well worn. The black, cloth-topped shoes were of fine quality, in contrast to the other clothing, and were marked within "Louis Hays, Green-castle, Ind., 22-11, 62,458." Her stockings were black and quite new. The rubbers were old and worn at the heels. The corset had evidently been ripped open and torn from her body during a struggle which took place near where it was found. Close by was a piece of the dress, also with blood on it.

Undertaker White of Newport, under the direction of the coroner, removed the body to his establishment, where hundreds were gathered throughout the afternoon and evening to see the body and discuss the horrible tragedy.

The woman appeared to be about 30 years old, and Dr. Tingley gave it as his opinion that she had been a mother. He found a cut across the fingers of the left hand, received as she grasped the blade of the knife in the hands of her slayer. Search was begun at once for the head of the murdered woman. Several ponds in the vicinity were dragged without success. There was not the slightest clue to the direction taken by the murderer. Parties were formed, and every foot of ground within a radius of half a mile searched. The searchers were stimulated by a reward of $50 offered by Campbell county authorities for the recovery of the head.

Sheriff Plummer sent to Seymour, Ind., for two bloodhounds to assist in the search for the head. They arrived about 6 o'clock and were taken to Fort Thomas at once, after first visiting the body at White's morgue. They were put upon the trail, and it was with the utmost difficulty that they could keep it, owing to the tramping of sightseers in the vicinity. They followed the trail along the fence from the scene of the murder to the Alexander pike, which they followed for a distance of 20 yards or so. The dogs made so many breaks that the trail was temporarily abandoned.

Later in the evening the dogs were again put on the trail. This time they were more successful. Taking the same direction as at first, the dogs kept on the pike for several hundred yards, leaving it they climbed over a little hill on the Fort Thomas side of the road, going in the direction of Covington reservoir No. 2. Arriving at the south end of the reservoir the hounds kept the trail along the side until they reached the middle of its south side, where they stopped.

The officers came to the conclusion that the head, which they suppose must have been wrapped in the woman's cloak, which is also missing, was thrown into the reservoir. The reservoir will be dragged.

Who could have committed the heinous deed is a question that has not yet been solved. At first it was thought that some soldier of the fort might be the guilty one. Colonel Cochran, the fort commander, ordered a rigid search to be made of the barracks and the accoutrements, which was done. No suspicious circumstance that could connect any soldier with the crime could be discovered, and Colonel Cochran was satisfied that the guilty man was to be looked for outside the fort.

Musician Ulrey of Company E, and Private Grimes of Company D, stated that they were standing in front of A. Riedematter's saloon on Friday night at 11 o'clock, when they noticed a woman and man coming across from the opposite side of the street. As they were standing near the crossing, and just under the light, they got a fair view of the couple.

They said the woman's stature and color of dress corresponded with that of the murdered woman. She was a blonde and wore a dark, broad-brim hat, with a large white plume across the crown. They took particular notice of her, owing to her attractiveness, and to the fact that she was strange to them. She wore a dark cape with an opera collar, which reached well down over her dress.

They thought her companion was one of the members of Company E, in citizen's clothing, and as the couple passed up the street they followed, and upon overtaking them Ulrey said: "Hello, Manning." He received no sign of recognition, and after walking ahead for some distance they turned around and passed the pair again on their way back to the fort to be able, if possible, to identify the man, whom they supposed was one of the boys belonging to the fort.

As they passed, the woman's companion said: "Wait a minute; I want to see you." Whereupon he walked up to Ulrey and looked him closely in the face, and then said: "I am mistaken in the man; excuse me."

Grimes stated that while the man was talking to Ulrey the girl looked anxiously at her companion, and said, "Come on, Charlie, we will be late."

Her companion then turned around, and the two walked off in the darkness.

Ulrey and Grimes describe the man as being well built, weighing about 180 pounds and wearing a black suit of clothes, the coat being of the cutaway pattern. So minutely had they noticed the man that they were able to testify as to his hat, collar and tie, the former being a black durby and the latter a laydown one with full points and the tie a neat black butterfly pattern.

Saturday morning, about 10 o'clock, while a number of soldiers were assembled in the saloon of A. Riedematter, on the Highland pike, near the fort, a man whose appearance tallied with the above description entered and sat down. He ordered a drink, and, sitting apart, seemed to be preoccupied about something. Mr. Riedematter's attention was attracted to the man because his clothing and shoes were mudstained, the shoes having the appearance of having been cleaned with a tuft of grass. His swollen eyes and paleness showed that he had evidently not been in bed for the previous night.

Another thing that struck Riedematter as singular was that the man's interest did not seem to be in the least aroused at the conversation of the soldiers, who were loudly discussing the finding of the headless body. Without taking any notice of them, the stranger approached the bar and asked Mr. Riedematter if there was a steam railroad between Fort Thomas and Cincinnati. No, sir, there is only the electric line," was the reply.

He then asked for the nearest steam railroad, and was directed to Brent station, on the Chesapeake and Ohio, which is about a mile from Fort Thomas. He went toward the door, but before going out turned and asked the inquisitorial question, "Where are the headquarters of Company H?" Being informed, he asked if anything had happened in the place. He was told the nature of the affair, and then walked out.

The soldiers noticed the man's peculiar actions, and remarked upon them after he left, but made no effort to question him.

PUBLIC DEBT INCREASED.

Decree of Cash in the Treasury Causes the Change.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The monthly statement of the public debt issued by the treasury department shows the public debt on Jan. 31, 1896, less cash in the treasury, to have been $93,049,237, an increase over last month of $7,347,375, which is accounted for by a decrease during the month of $6,435,422 in the cash in the treasury.

The debt is classified as follows: Interest bearing debt, $147,302,820; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,673,190; debt bearing no interest, $375,602,005; total debt, $1,124,638,015, which does not include certificates and treasury notes outstanding amounting to $562,542,773, which is offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury.

The cash in the treasury is recapitulated as follows: Gold, $99,693,356; silver, $505,421,818; paper, $153,279,225; bonds, disbursing officers' balances, etc., $16,159,324, an aggregate of $774,553,725, against which are demand liabilities amounting to $602,961,947, leaving a cash balance of $171,591,778.

MINTS COINING SILVER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The monthly report of the director of the mint shows the total coinage during January to have been $13,033,560, classified as follows: Gold, $12,914,600; silver, $35,000; minor coin, $53,960. The mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco and New Orleans Saturday began the coinage of silver dollars at the rate of $1,500,000 per month. It is expected that the work will continue until from $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 have been coined.

COLISEUM CHOSEN.

Democratic Committee Selects Convention Building at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—The next Democratic nominee for the presidency will be named in the Coliseum at Sixty-third street and Jackson Park. This was the decision of the subcommittee of the national Democratic committee Saturday evening, after an executive session of over four hours, and it means that an audience of not less than 15,000 will be afforded an opportunity of greeting with acclaim the name of the successful candidate.

It was also decided to locate the headquarters of the national committee at the Palmer House. There was an informal discussion on the appointment of a sergeant-at-arms, the only names mentioned being John S. Cooper, president of the Cook county Democracy, and Elijah Brooks of Indiana.

It was agreed, however, that no definite selection should be made until the next meeting of the subcommittee, and which will be held in this city upon a future date to be selected by National Chairman Hanley.

SILVER BILL PASSED.

Long Struggle in the Senate Finally Ended.

SUBSTITUTE FOR THE HOUSE BILL

The Final Vote Was 42 to 35—The House Will Probably Not Concur in the Senate Measure and the Bill May Never Become a Law—Program of the House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The long struggle in the senate over the question of the free coinage of silver terminated in a victory for the friends of free silver. The substitute for the house bill was passed by a vote of 42 to 35. Its title was changed so as to make it read: "To restore the coinage of silver dollars and for other purposes."

The bill as it now stands provides that from the date of the act the mints of the United States shall be open to the coinage of silver, and the dollar shall be of the present weight and fineness, and also provides for the exchequer certificates. It further provides for the coinage of the seigniorage now in the treasury, and authorizes immediate issue of certificates upon the same in advance of its coinage.

One section of the bill provides that no bank note of less than $10 shall hereafter be issued, and those outstanding of less amount shall be taken up and canceled as soon as possible.

Section 4 provides that the greenbacks and treasury notes shall be redeemed in standard silver dollars, or in gold coin, at the option of the treasury, and the greenbacks, when so redeemed, shall be immediately reissued.

All the sections of the house bill are struck out. The bill now goes to the house for concurrence in the substitute.

PROGRAM OF CONGRESS.

Probable Proceedings For the Week in Both the House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The important features of the week's proceedings in the house will be in connection with the resolution to censure Ambassador Bayard, adopted by the foreign affairs committee, and the senate free coinage substitute for the house bond bill.

The resolution censuring Mr. Bayard will probably precipitate an exciting contest on the floor, but will doubtless be adopted when it reaches a vote.

When the free coinage substitute for the house bond bill is returned to the house an effort may be made by the silver men to concur in the substitute. Such an attempt would, of course, be defeated, as the majority against silver in the lower branch of congress is overwhelming, but it might be made in order to put the members on record. The bill, according to the recent program, will be immediately referred to the ways and means committee and reported back with a recommendation that the senate substitute be nonconcurred in, which in parliamentary language would mean that the house insists upon its bill. It will then remain for the senate, which also will insist on its bill, to request a conference. It is there that some of the members at each end of the Capitol hope to effect a compromise, but the prevailing opinion is that the bill will die in conference.

The week, except the portion devoted to the bond bill and the Bayard resolution, will be given up to a continuation of the work on the appropriation bills. The District of Columbia bill is still under consideration. The agricultural and army bill have been reported, and the Indian bill is almost ready. They will probably be taken up in the order named.

The senate has no well defined plan for this week's proceedings. It is possible, though by no means certain, that the finance committee will be able to report the revenue tariff bill on Tuesday, the matter still depending on Senator Jones of Nevada. If the bill should be reported there will probably be some desultory speech-making, based upon it, but the consideration of the measure would scarcely be seriously begun this week even though a report should be secured as promptly as is hoped by the friends of the bill.

The committee on appropriations will claim a good share of the time that the senate will be in session. The urgent deficiency appropriation bill has already been reported, and the military academy and pension bills will be put in early in the week. None of these will excite any prolonged debate, and it is altogether probable that all will be disposed of before the week closes. The Cuban and Monroe doctrine resolutions are also on the calendar, and can be taken up at any time.

There is more or less executive business to claim attention, and the general calendar has been growing rapidly as the result of committee work, while the silver bond bill has been claiming the attention of the senate. Under these circumstances the week bids fair to be one of diversified interest with no one topic claiming attention.

TIRED OF LIVING IN BROOKLYN.

One Woman and Two Men Suicide in One Day.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 3.—One woman and two men committed suicide in this city yesterday. The sensational suicide, however, was that of Mrs. Augusta Schwartz, a wealthy widow, who owned a handsome residence in Berkeley place, the aristocratic section of Brooklyn. For some time past she has been a constant sufferer from neuralgia, and that, together with the fact that her husband, Anton Schwartz, a prominent member of the Brewers' Exchange, had been found dead about a year ago under peculiar circumstances in New York city, had given her great mental worry. She shot herself through the mouth yesterday morning, and when her son rushed into the room he discovered that his mother had placed several rubber tubes over the gas jets and ran them across to the bed where she lay. He also found an empty bottle, which, it is believed, contained a quantity of laudanum.

Henry Burnse, a German, 50 years old, killed himself by drinking a mixture of strychnine and lager beer during, it is said, a fit of temporary insanity.

Because he was reduced from the position of foreman to that of conductor on the Reade avenue trolley line, Raynor E. Rogers, 36 years old, shot himself in the head and died soon afterward.

MILLION DOLLAR

Dr. Arthur Duestrow's Jury May Not Save Him From the Gallows.

UNION, Mo., Feb. 3.—He celebrated case of Dr. Arthur Duestrow, the St. Louis millionaire, who has been on trial during the past month for the cold-blooded murder of his wife and baby two years ago, ended yesterday, the jury returning a verdict of guilty in the first degree. After arguments that took up the greater portion of Saturday and lasted until almost midnight, the case was given to the jury, the members of which went to rest without considering it.

Yester evening the jury took up the case and on the first ballot unanimously found the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. The result was reached without much trouble, each member of the jury seemingly having settled the case in his own mind in the interval between midnight and morning. This verdict is received with universal satisfaction. This is the second trial that Dr. Duestrow has had on the charge of murder, the first one resulting in a hung jury last year.

The terrible crime with which he was charged was committed in February, 1893. One day that month his wife and child were at home awaiting his coming to take a drive. When he came into the house Duestrow, who was drunk, began to abuse his wife and finally shot her down in cold blood. He then picked up his 3-year-old boy, a beautiful child, and, holding it at arm's length, killed it with a pistol shot through the head. His wife lingered for several days and finally died.

After his arrest Duestrow, with the help of his fortune, tried to avert the consequences of his crime. Ex-Governor Johnson, who is credited with being one of the finest criminal lawyers of this state, was given charge of the case, and was assisted by Colonel Nat Dryden, Charles Noland and J. Wesley Booth, Prosecuting Attorney Zachariah of St. Louis was assisted by Judge Bolte, prosecuting attorney of Franklin county; Judge Gallekamp and Lee Merriweather, Counsel for the defense endeavored to establish a plea of insanity, but after two inquiries held before juries in which much expert testimony was heard on both sides, it was given up and the case came to trial in Union, a change of venue having been taken from St. Louis. The first trial ended in a hung jury.

Throughout the last trial before Judge Hurzel, Governor Johnson and his assistants kept up the insanity idea and were ably seconded by the defendant, who endeavored to create the impression that he was crazy.

When the result of the jury's deliberations was made known yesterday Duestrow's counsel stated that an appeal to the supreme court would be made.

Duestrow received the verdict calmly. He sat smoking a cigarette as the judge read the paper handed in by the jury. As far as external appearances go, he was the coolest man in the courtroom.

MARIN'S MOVEMENTS.

He Has Not Succeeded in Capturing Gomez or Maceo.

HAVANA, Feb. 3.—Ever since General Marin left Havana last Thursday he has been constantly on the move. When he started Gomez and Maceo were both in Pinar del Rio province, and it was thought they would try and join their commands, but at San Antonio, General Marin learned that Gomez had recrossed the line, going east again. General Marin turned about and went to Quivicán, afterward going to Melena where there was a skirmish yesterday. It was supposed to be General Gomez's rear guard, but no report of it is obtainable.

Gomez and his followers are in Havana province, east of famed "military" wall. Maceo with his men are reported to be still in Pinar del Rio province, but moving east and not far from the border of Havana province.

Great activity continues along the so-called strong Spanish line, which is being strengthened every day in order now to prevent, if possible, Maceo from crossing eastward and joining Gomez.

The insurgents derailed a freight train of 30 cars last evening near Poso Rendondo, a small station about seven miles north of Batabano. Eighty Spanish infantry accompanied the train, which had an armored car. The rebels, hiding in the cane fields opened fire, but the Spanish soldiers drove them off and saved the property in the cars.

A report has been received from Manzanillo that the well known insurgent leader, Francisco Rabi, has died from wounds received in battle.

The column of Vienna fired upon Lacret's band at the plantation of Carlote, near Jovellanoz, and killed six of the insurgents.

It is stated that the detachment of Spanish troops under command of Colonel Jose Macon, a skillful fighter, is expected to join Marin.

HERE'S a straw. Middletown, Connecticut, went Democratic last week for the first time since 1874, the Democrats electing Mayor, both Aldermen and six Councilmen.

THE HON. WILLIAM MCKINLEY's friends in this State don't take much stock in Governor Bradley's boom for President. In fact, they no doubt ridicule it when they get off all by themselves; and they intend that Kentucky's vote in the St. Louis convention shall be recorded for their favorite.

COUNTY CULLINGS.

SPRINGDALE.

Quite a lot of tobacco will be shipped from this place the first of the week.

Miss Amy Goddard is getting along splendidly with our school. Most of the pupils pronounce her equal to any teacher we have ever had.

The Public Ledger says no dead heads travel on our Springdale pike. Right, Mr. Ledger. The mud is so deep the dead heads can't reach the pike but we pay tribute to Caesar to wade through the mud. "How long, oh Lord how long?"

Several newspapers are asking their patrons to give their first choice for President. We of this province want it distinctly understood we are for any body except Boss Bradley. He had places enough for us all down here but "nary" place do we get, and if he was President it would be the same. We'd still have to dig our wealth out of these stony places.

At a ball given at the palatial residence of Charles Drake in Marysville (a suburb of Springdale) a young lady from Canada was awarded the premium for best dancing. The Chief Magistrate of the town was so pleased that he swore unto her that he would give her anything she asked, even to the half of his kingdom, but the young lady was willing to compromise for a pound of candy. Said C. M. was very sorry, as that about broke him, never the less for his set's sake he sent and got the pound and all went merry, etc.

MAYSICK.

We have had plenty of rain.

John Huffman has a new daughter.

We have it very muddy now after the rain.

Geo. Weller is with us again, looking as natural as life.

Condit Dougherty's wife presented him with a fine daughter January 25th.

Mitchell B., son of J. A. Jackson, is suffering with a deep cold and cough.

January has come and gone and the most it was fine spring-like weather.

The health of this place is good, but there is a great deal of sickness in the county.

F. M. Tindler has been on the sick list during the past week with the grip, or a deep cold.

It is awfully dull here. No trade, no money, everything is on a standstill. What is the matter?

We are sorry to learn of the continued illness of our old friend S. A. Miller. Hope he may soon be able to be out again.

The drummers are again thick on the war path, trying to sell to our merchants on slow time. They bite slowly.

David Curiash, the silversmith, who has been with us over two weeks, left last Wednesday for the Plains. He is a good workman.

Smith & Traxel, of Maysville, are here making a new baptistry in the Baptist Church, for cold or hot water. They are doing a good job.

J. A. Jackson, who has been confined to his home for five months, is some better and improving slowly. He is troubled with kidney and bladder disease.

EAST LIMESTONE.

Much sickness in the neighborhood at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Childs had little twins to arrive at their home Friday, a boy and a girl.

Mr. Charley Case, Bernard's young merchant and P. M., is confined to his bed with the prevailing epidemic.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sears, of Maysville, are visiting Mrs. Weedon Breeze who has recently moved in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Eliza Pollitt, widow of the late Alex. Pollitt of near Tollesboro, returned home Thursday from a visit with her son, Prof. Pollitt, near here.

Miss Annie Adams is quite sick with pneumonia. Dr. Hord, of Orangeburg, the attending physician, has twenty-six cases of this dread disease.

Miss Nannie Rash, of near Tollesboro, returned home Friday, accompanied by her niece, Miss Annie Meyers, whom she has been visiting for several days past.

The division of the estate of the late Thomas A. Williams has been indefinitely postponed on account of the ill health of Mr. John Powers, who is one of the appraisers committee.

Mrs. Sarah Williams had the misfortune to fall a few days ago and dislocate one of her shoulders. It required the services of two physicians to replace the dislocation, and with this affliction and serious heart trouble, Mrs. Williams is in quite delicate condition.

Mr. Richard C. Williams, with the assistance of about twenty of his kind and obliging neighbors, Thursday converted a lot of his fine beech timber, sold to be the finest in Mason County, into logs, many of them squaring 2x16 feet. Mr. Williams will engage the services of a saw mill soon to convert these beautiful straight logs and a lot of nice walnut and other timber into lumber.

GRIFFITH AS "MEPHISTO" TO-NIGHT.

The Detroit Free Press Gives Him and His Company a Warm Endorsement.

John Griffith with his splendid company will appear at the opera house to-night in "Faust." Tickets can be had at Nelson's.

Mr. George Goodale in the Detroit Free Press Monday, November 4th, says of this brilliant young actor:

A theatrical incident of more than ordinary interest, is the revival by John Griffith, of "Faust." It was produced twice yesterday, before audiences large enough to crowd the theater. This production is on a scale of costliness, and in a spirit of devotion to real art, while the playgoer almost never sees in theaters of the so-called popular grade. Such ambitious efforts are generally reserved for the first-class theaters, where it is the custom to demand the prices multiplied by three.

Mr. Griffith is only twenty-seven years old, yet he has had large experience in the higher drama, an abundant opportunity to learn by observation the graces and the means by which the great actors produce their larger effects. His "Mephisto" was seen here last season, when it was much admired by thinking playgoers. It is a better work now than it was a year ago, and a year hence it will be better than it is now.

He is earnest, industrious, eager to be corrected when in error, possessed of dramatic faculty, alert to intelligent and practical suggestion, even though it run counter to preconceived notions not grounded in convincing logic, and having the feeling essential to sympathetic and truthful personation. Besides these things, he has art, and he knows right well the tricks of trade.

There is room on our stage for young men of the Griffith order, whose dominant note is sincerity. His "Mephisto" can be recommended to the play-going readers as a thing that is worth their attention; and in addition to his individual achievement, is his well chosen company, and the entire sufficiency of the scene and mechanical phases of his production. In underlying dramatic value, and in its more superficial theatrical effectiveness, this representation outranks any offering that has been seen at the theater.

The School Book Monopoly.

[Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.]

The Legislature has an opportunity to do a grand thing for the State and make a record to which in after years they may point with pride. We refer to the need for an act which will break up the monopoly which the school book trust is now using to rob the people of the State of Kentucky. A book which does not cost over 15 cents to manufacture is sold at $1.12, and others in about the same proportion. It is an outrage which should be speedily put an end to.

When you count up the number of children in the State and the number of high-priced books required on the average, some idea of the magnitude of the steal may be formed. No wonder times are hard when a monopoly like this is allowed thus to fasten itself upon the public and suck out its financial life-blood under the forms of law. Down with all monopolies, and in particular this one, which lays a tax upon the education of our children.

Matinee Lecture on Food.

Let no housekeeper overlook Mr. Worrell's lecture in the opera house to-morrow afternoon. The entire range of food will be discussed. The lecture will be valuable, not only for the knowledge it will impart in dietetics, but for its many practical points which in no other way could be so concretely presented. There will be a magnificent platform exhibit of raw food products obtained from the Botanical Museum of Harvard University, at Cambridge. Every seat reserved for housekeepers. Admission by ticket only. None but housekeepers can secure them free at Nelson's hat store.

FOURTH CLASS CITIES.

Bill Embodying Their Wants Introduced in the Legislature—News From Frankfort.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Lexington Leader says that the fourth class cities have agreed upon a bill of amendments and repeals which was presented in the House Friday. The bill contains many important changes, chief among which are the following:

Section 1 provides authority to tax and regulate wagons, drays, hacks, livery vehicles, pork houses, exchanges, telegraph, insurance and express offices, hotels, club houses, carriers of freight or passengers within the city.

Section 2 gives to the city power to erect a work house, poor house, station house, house of correction, burial grounds and public library.

Section 3 empowers Board of Council to prescribe punishment for persons who shall molest or damage any system of water works; to establish and maintain a pound and provide for the impounding and keeping of stray stock; to authorize the destruction of dogs running at large.

Section 4 provides how all judgments rendered by the City Court may be collected.

Section 5 gives the Board of Council power to require property owners to pave and improve sidewalks fronting their properties.

Among the other provisions are regulations as to street improvements, etc. The Committee of Municipalities will doubtless recommend favorably the bill of amendments and repeals and it will pass both Houses.

The joint ballot for Senator Saturday resulted in no choice. Twenty-eight members were absent. Lieut. Gov. Worthington ruled that the time for electing a State Librarian had expired. And the question now is whether the present incumbent shall hold over, or whether the Governor shall fill the office by appointment. The Republicans think he has the right to appoint, and the action of Mr. Worthington was part of a scheme to give themselves this office.

The election in Nelson County Saturday to fill the vacancy in the office of Representative resulted in a majority of about 700 for Hon. J. C. W. Beckham, the Democratic nominee. He is for free silver, and a warm friend of Senator Blackburn. Senator Ogilvie, who has been kept away by sickness, is expected in Frankfort to-day. The senatorial contest will likely be settled this week.

Mr. Pollitt, of Lewis County, has offered an amendment to the laws against empiricism. The change which he makes does away with the practical examination now required, and the only requirement under Mr. Pollitt's bill would be that the applicant had practiced medicine prior to 1884.

Mr. Carson, of Louisville, introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor for any employer to withhold wages from an employee.

Senator Hays introduced a bill to protect the citizen, the public officer and the candidate for office from the slanderer and the campaign liar. It provides a fine of $500 and a loss of suffrage for five years for circulating a slander.

Mr. Bronston introduced a code amendment permitting the taking of depositions in short hand.

A bill by Mr. Elmore provides that crops grown by tenants or under-tenants may be sold for the rent.

Mr. Stege, of Louisville, introduced a bill to reduce the pay of grand and petit jurors to $1.50 per day.

Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Curtis.

Mrs. Elizabeth Curtis died Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock at her home near Taylor's Mill, of pneumonia.

She was the widow of the late John Curtis and was in the seventy-ninth year of her age. But one child survives her, Mr. John P. Curtis. She leaves a number of relatives in this city.

The funeral will occur to-morrow at 11 a.m. at Stone Lick Church, and will be conducted by Rev. Cleon Keyes.

An "old folks" concert will be given at the opera house February 18th, for the benefit of the Washington Fire Company. Mrs. Geo. W. Sulser and Miss Lida Berry are arranging the program, which is assurance that it will be an enjoyable one.

THE internal revenue collections at Lawrenceburg last month amounted to $65,254.64. This exceeds by $18,000 any month's receipts since August, 1894, when the new tariff law went into effect. Compared with last January it shows an increase of $53,363.42.

PARIS Kentuckian: "The East Tennessee Telephone Company has connected Paris with Cincinnati, and next week will have the long distance telephone to Washington and New York. In a few weeks Paris will be connected with Maysville, Carlisle and Millersburg."

THE Portsmouth Blade is authority for the statement that all passenger engines on this division of the C. and O. are to be equipped with electric headlights. Later the service will be extended to freight engines. It is now in use on passenger engines on the Huntington-Clifton Forge division, and gives the greatest satisfaction.

MRS. JAMES J. SHACKLEFORD has sued the Michie Bros. of Cincinnati and the Adams Express Company for $250 damages because of the loss of a diamond ring, which she left with the jewelers to have reset and which they claim to have sent to her by the express company, but which she never received. The suit was brought at Cincinnati. The ring was lost about a year ago.

THE public school census of Lexington for this year will show Lexington two hundred less than the census of 1895. This loss will be occasioned by the discontinuance of a custom previously existing by which all the children who lived in the suburbs were included in the city census. In this case the city received the per capita, $2.86, from the State to go into the public school fund.

THE assessed value of property in Madison County is $8,650,170. The county produced during the past year 1,379,990 bushels of corn, 107,351 of wheat, 48,832 of oats, 10,154 of grass seed, 756,400 pounds of tobacco, 9,000 pounds of hemp and 2,056 tons of hay. The cattle were valued at $299,860, sheep at $9,540, hogs at $87,480, jacks and jennets at $13,400, horse stock at $189,350 and mules at $67,930.

THE Detroit Tribune, November 4th, says: "Goethe's great play 'Faust' was given an excellent representation at Campbell's Theater yesterday by John Griffith's company, with Griffith as 'Mephisto.' When it is adequately presented, 'Faust' is one of the most beautiful and dramatic plays that have ever been represented on the stage. Mr. Griffith claims to give Irving's version of the piece. He carries for that purpose, the entire scenery of the piece and a very excellent company, and offered one of the best representations of the play that has ever been seen in Detroit."

NICE POINT INVOLVED.

Three of Kentucky's Appellate Judges Bring an Interesting Suit Against the State.

Auditor Stone Friday afternoon refused to pay Judges Pryor, Lewis and Hazle- rige, of the Court of Appeals, their salaries at the rate of $5,000 per year. The Auditor asked the opinion of Attorney General Taylor on the matter, and the Attorney General said that they were not entitled to that much.

The Judges then brought a mandamus suit through their attorneys, E. W. Hines and ex-Attorney General Hendrick, in the Franklin Circuit Court to compel the Auditor to pay them.

The Attorney General holds that they were elected under the old Constitution at a salary of $4,000 per annum, and are not entitled to $5,000.

The Judges hold that when the new Constitution went into effect, the Court of Appeals was reorganized and they took the oath of office as if they were newly elected.

They base their grounds for suit on the provision of the Constitution which says that all salaries must be uniform.

Ex-Attorney General Hendrick ruled that they were all entitled to $5,000, and the suit will now settle who's right, Mr. Taylor or Mr. Hendrick.

Do not daily with rheumatism. Get rid of it at once by purifying the blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Be sure to get Hood's.

Nice Send Off for Senator Rumman.

A correspondent of the Lexington Leader says: "Among the present members of the Kentucky Senate I find none more popular or able than the Hon. J. D. Rumman, from Mason and Lewis counties. He is a hard worker, careful of the interests of his constituents, and was sent here by the largest majority ever given a Republican in his district. He is comparatively a young man, and one whose future it will do to watch. Should the Ninth district have a candidate to succeed Governor Bradley, I believe Senator Rumman eminently qualified in every way to fill the Chief Magistrate's chair."

GREAT DAMAGE DONE BY FLOODS.
TENNESSEE, ARKANSAS AND MISSISSIPPI ONE
Vast Sea of Water.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 3.—The unprecedented rainfall in the lower Mississippi valley during the past 10 days has caused all streams to overflow and the lowlands in Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi are one vast sea of water. Bridges have been washed away on several of the railroads and traffic is seriously delayed.

In Arkansas the damage from the flood will reach high figures. The Ouachita river rose 30 feet within 36 hours and the torrent of waters swept everything before it. Many fine plantations and farms in that fertile valley have been submerged and outhouses and fences swept away.

Rain has been falling almost steadily during the past 48 hours and the water will go still higher.

News has been received here of the drowning of an entire family of children on the Reid place, four miles from Canton, Miss., the parents having gone to a festival, and the dwelling being flooded before their return.

Port Gibson, Miss., reports that all streams in that vicinity are overflowed, and bridges destroyed or badly damaged. Dave Barnes, colored, was drowned by the upsetting of a dugout, in which he was attempting to cross an overflowed field.

COIT NOT GUILTY.

Jury's Verdict in the First Indictment Against the Colonel.

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Feb. 3.—The jury in the case against Alonzo B. Coit, for manslaughter (first indictment) for the killing of Smith Welch at the Washington C. H. riot, returned a verdict of not guilty at 10:45 Saturday night. It began its deliberations Wednesday evening. There was no demonstration except a little applause from the military element present.

Hon. Ulric Sloan of the prosecution asked the court to assign the hearing of the second indictment for the killing of W. A. Sams for July next, but Judge Walters replied he was not ready just then. As the colonel left the courtroom he was taken in charge by members of Company A, who gave him quite an ovation.

Fatalities still follow this trial. Judge Walters received a telegram Saturday morning that his eldest daughter, Harriet, had died of heart failure at St. Mary convent, Columbus, where she was attending school. Hon. H. G. Worthington of Washington C. H., one of the attorneys for Coit, was called home Saturday morning by the death of his mother. Juror Mitchell of Scioto township received a telephone message that his mother was lying at the point of death.

Triumph of Bad Spelling.

Mr. R. E. Bartlett, Chelmsford, writes: "I can beat the achievement of Charles Edward, who, by spelling box 'botsk,' made more mistakes than the letters admitted of. I have in my possession a letter addressed many years ago to my father, in which 13 mistakes are made in a single word of five letters. The word is, or was meant to be, usage; the spelling is yowzith. There are thus five sins of omission and eight of commission; total, 13."—London News.

Women Car Drivers.

Women street car drivers are the latest suggestion of the woman fad. Think of the pleasure of being put off—but then women are great at putting off.—New York Mail and Express.

Indemnity Demanded of Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 3.—The United States minister, Mr. Terrill, has demanded an indemnity of $100,000 for the burning and pillaging of the American missions at Marash and Kharput. He also asked for the immediate granting of firms for rebuilding them.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

Venezuela's Position.

"Honduras" is Spanish and means "deep water." What Venezuela means we do not know, but "hot water" is about the right translation of her position just now.—New York Mail and Express.

W. H. English No Better.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 3.—The condition of William H. English, who is lying seriously ill at his rooms, shows no material change. The complications arising from the attack of grip as yet show no signs of disappearing.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

BAD TIMES?

Well, we should say so. Those Clocks and Watches are to badly out of fix to be of any use. They are all out of order entirely. You'll lose your time to boot. If you're provided with good Clocks and watches, we have a full supply of both, all accurate time-keepers and in perfect order. Better Watches than ours are not manufactured. Whatever the price of any watch we carry, it's the best of its kind and a full value. Get a timepiece; get the best; get ours.

And everything I handle in the same proportion. Don't overlook the fact that my Blended Coffee is the best, and that my Blend Flour has no taste to speak of. Our flour is the best for sale, sold exclusively by me; no other goods. My house is always headquarters for everything good to eat. Come in, everybody, whether you want to buy or not. You are always welcome. Goods delivered to all parts of the city.
